

JOKE ARCHIVE

Written by Christopher Albert

The following monologue of jokes were written for a small-framed, cancer-surviving adult man, with a very peculiar, child-like voice.

CANCER

I'm a Cancer survivor
And thanks to radiation – I sound like E.T.
Who knew Chemo Therapy could make you so darn cute?

I was 4 years old, when I was given this gift from God
Usually you just get presents from your parents.
So I guess that means – I'm the real Son of God.

I've undergone many treatments, including bone marrow transplants.
Which has given me a new appreciation for milk.
So if there are any women out there...who are lactating,
You will find that – I fit perfectly in your arms.

If people refer to you as a Cow – even better.

WOMEN

As a man in my 30's, my favorite women of all are single mothers.
They have what grown men like me need – video games.

That's why I cruise for dates in aisle 10 -- of Toys R' Us.
There's always a voluptuous woman there – trying her best to understand the video game rating system.

If she has a daughter – I've hit jackpot.
I can cry and say that little bitch pushed me.
It's one of my best ice-breakers.

I cruise supermarkets too.
Women there think I'm adorable for helping out mom with groceries.
You should see their faces when they realize it's just ME checking out and packing my own bags into my car – It's like they've never seen a circus act before.

If they're really freaked out, I give them a wink, and tell them, "Yeah sweetheart – that's me on the milk carton."

JOKE ARCHIVE

Written by Christopher Albert

I once had Child Care Services called to my home.
Which was great – not only was the case worker hot – but she was also employed.

AFTER 3PM

I have to be careful when riding the subway after 3 pm.
15-year-old girls like to approach me and ask – “Hey, what grade are you in?”

That’s when I have to shut them down – “Back up pixie tails. I’m 32 – and in the school of LIFE.”
“You wanna’ know more about me? – Grow a pair of tits and get a diploma first.”
“Cus’ this right here – is the AFTER-AFTER SCHOOL SPECIAL!”

BENJAMIN BUTTON

People should really educate themselves more about people like me.
I’m not a midget. I’m not a dwarf. And by no means – am I a retard.
Firstly – that’s a politically incorrect thing to say.
Secondly – some of your children are straight up bullies.

If you really want to learn more about me and my condition, there's a great documentary you can watch, based on my life – It’s called Benjamin Button.