Actor Bio:

Of Christopher Albert's many talents, most compelling is his ability to spin his life into comedy gold. Other than the abundance of dreadfully hilarious experiences to draw upon, Christopher has also been afforded the unique opportunity to study the craft of humor with seasoned instructors from the famed Comedy Store and Second City Hollywood, as well as invaluable insight from veteran comedy writer Frank Santopadre of Comedywise. He has also performed on an array of exciting live comedy showcases, featured alongside many top comedians.

Christopher's honest approach to humor is evident in his litany of fearless material, including Junk and Jam, a suite of award-winning comedic content and television and radio broadcasts, as well as the 2022 People's Choice winning podcast.

Prior to comedy, Christopher's roots in entertainment began as a touring singer, where he was gifted the chance to perform on many stages, including the historic Apollo Theater, the NJ Pac, and the Walt Disney Amphitheater in Orlando. His performances have appeared on the Rosie O' Donnell Show, Billboard Music Awards and features on MTV and PBS, alongside the likes of Stevie Wonder, Diana Ross, Coolio and Darlene Love.

SAG-AFTRA

Christopher's collection of humorous storytelling include The Kettle Black: The Chronicles of Mia and Rocco, as published on The Furious Gazelle, as well as the autobiographical short stories and future One-Man Showcase, A Crack Baby's Bible.

As a performer, actor, humorist, host and producer, Christopher Albert humbly believes that humor, music, tv, film and theater are much more than just tools used to escape the harsh realities of our world, it enriches it.
